

Brookhaven/South Haven Cemeteries Fact Sheet

Brookhaven and South Haven Hamlets are blessed with many small family cemeteries and burying grounds, some of which predate the Revolutionary War. These cemeteries help provide a window to our community heritage. With study, they provide insight into lives of those who built these now unique hamlets. They are a valuable educational resource for our youth and adults, and future generations,

But they are a fragile resource. For them to survive, each generation needs to insure their protection and maintenance.

“Show me your cemeteries, and I will tell you what kind of people you have.”

Benjamin Franklin

(1706 - 1790)

State Laws

In New York State law, there are two major types of cemeteries: those run by cemetery corporations, and those that are not. Cemeteries owned and operated by cemetery associations/not-for-profit cemetery corporations fall under the jurisdiction of the New York State Department of State's Division of Cemeteries. Oaklawn Cemetery is the only cemetery in the hamlets that is in this category. It is not covered by this Fact Sheet.

Town of Brookhaven Responsibilities

All other cemeteries are governed by NYS Town Law¹. The Brookhaven Town board is under a duty to care for these cemeteries located in the town. The State law recognizes three classes of these cemeteries:

1st class cemetery – title to which has been vested to town by virtue of its use by town residents for 14 years.

- Requirements for fencing/mowing: maintained fence encircling cemetery required, mowing at least three times per year.

2nd class cemetery – by whatever ownership (other than private), control is not vested by a corporate body.

- Fencing/mowing: fence in front of cemetery required, mowing at least twice per year.

3rd class cemetery – any other than a private burial ground, which is abandoned or not controlled by any interest and no endowment or funds exist for its upkeep.

- Fencing/mowing: either front only or encircling fencing, depending on discretion of the board, no particular mowing requirements.

All of the cemeteries and burying grounds in the hamlets at least meet the definition of a 3rd class cemetery, and probably most meet the other classes, as they are recorded on the tax records as being Town property.

Existing Town Care

In Brookhaven Town, the responsibility for the care of these cemeteries has been assigned to the Department of Parks and Recreation.

The existing condition of our cemeteries and burying grounds is inconsistent, fair to poor. In some cases, spotty maintenance may be provided by our neighbors. It also appears that three cemeteries may be receiving some attention by the Town – the Rose Cemetery off Jared's Path, the Hulse Cemetery on Fire Place Neck Rd., and the old South Haven Church Cemetery. This attention, however, does not appear to be meeting the State's minimum standards. There does not appear to be any regular program of maintenance by the Department of Parks and Recreation. In many cases, the Department does not seem to be aware of the existence of a cemetery, even though these cemeteries have long been identified on Town tax maps and records, and a comprehensive inventory by the Town Historian (organizationally within the Department) has been in existence since 1939.

Except where the cemetery is close to a road, right-of-ways/easements are overgrown and may be becoming co-opted by adjacent properties – even where shown on tax maps. In some cases the cemetery itself is being encroached by adjacent properties – hence the intent of the State law-specified fencing.

What You Can Do

- Sign up to become a Cemetery Advocate. Pick a particular cemetery near you or one that you are especially fond of. Keep on eye on it. Visit it occasionally. Let it become YOUR cemetery.
- Inform the Town of your concern when it is not being maintained in accordance with State law. Call the new Town “Constituent Response System²” should you see that your cemetery is not being maintained.

451-TOWN (451-8696)

- Let Town officials know of your concern;
